High-Level Analysis of Developments and Topical Trends in Trade Law

The Journal of World Trade sets the agenda for practitioners and policymakers in this most critical area of international relations.

With penetrating, in-depth analysis, the Journal examines the relationships between regional and global integration processes stemming from today's challenging multilateral trading structure. It covers:

- The operation of the North American Free Trade Agreement
- The ongoing development of the World Trade Organization
- The expansion of the European integration process
- The exponential increase in Free Trade Agreements around the globe

Each of these crucial circumstances has raised complex questions that touch on many disciplines:

- Economic
- Political
- Social
- Legal

The Journal of World Trade sets out to answer the most pressing questions in the field, addressing the:

- On-going evolution of the international trading system
- Rapid changes in production and distribution technologies
- Interrelationship between trade and social welfare

Throughout the year, leading authorities bring you the latest on:

- Administration of Customs Laws
- Intellectual Property Protection
- Anti-Dumping
- Regional Trade Agreements
- Subsidies and Countervailing Duties
- Tariffs and Quotas
- Safeguards
- WTO Dispute Settlement Developments
- Technical and (Phyto-)Sanitary Barriers to Trade
- And More!

About the Editor

Edwin Vermulst has practiced international trade and EC law and policy in Washington, DC and Brussels since 1985 and is a founding member of the law firm of Vermulst Verhaeghe Graafsma & Bronckers. He is also a member of the Brussels bar. Mr. Vermulst was a WTO Panelist and has been involved in WTO dispute settlement proceedings as a member of the delegation.

He has co-authored six books, including landmark comparative analyses of the anti-dumping systems of Australia, Canada, the EC and the United States with Professor John Jackson in 1989, rules of origin with Jacques Bourgeois and Paul Waer in 1994, and numerous articles. Mr. Vermulst is the founding editor of Global Trade and Customs Journal and serves as a member of the Editorial Advisory Board of Legal Issues of European Integration. He is a faculty member of the World Trade Institute in Bern and the IELPO program in Barcelona. He also serves as a member of the Board of the European Centre for International Political Economy (ECIPE). Mr. Vermulst is invariably selected as a leading trade practitioner by publications such as Legal 500, Chambers Global, Who's Who in Trade and the Rushford Report.
